DC-Based Travel Agency Receives National Recognition for Excellence in Online Travel Procurement

MacNair Travel Receives GetThere's Luminary Award

ALEXANDRIA, VA—March 26, 2009—MacNair Travel Management, a privately owned American Express Representative Office, announced today it is the recipient of its third GetThere Luminary Award. As a GetThere Partner Advisory Board member, MacNair Travel is being recognized for its achievements and innovations in driving increased travel savings for its corporate clients in 2008 by the use of an integrated travel procurement system.

MacNair's President & CEO Michael MacNair attributes continued growth with GetThere's online booking tool, branded as MacNairport, to its ability to customize the GetThere online reservation system with its customers' travel policies, accounting procedures and branding to make it a powerful home for an organization's travel management system.

"By providing travelers this technology solution, coupled with our support and training, we are ensuring travel-related cost and time savings for clients while increasing confidence," MacNair says. "In this economy, it is imperative to not underestimate the value a travel management system delivers to a company's bottom line. MacNair Travel Management's travel management systems work and continually result in cost savings to our clients."

When using MacNair's online booking tool, travelers have access to more fares, airlines (to include low cost carriers), routings, hotels, and cars than any other private site, MacNair adds.

More than 3,000 companies worldwide, including more than half of the Fortune 200 that use an online travel program, used GetThere in 2007 to cumulatively book more than $9.4 billion in travel.

While 2008 proved to be a year of economic trials, MacNair Travel Management continued to drive growth and new business by leveraging GetThere as its primary corporate online booking solution, according to GetThere President Chris Kroeger.

"Your commitment to GetThere and the value it provides to your corporate customers is to be commended," Kroeger explains. "In 2008, MacNair Travel Management provided a shining example by being among the first to adopt many of our features, such as Online Ticket Exchange, migrating to our Enhanced Air Shopping Platform, and utilizing the GetThere Connection Community as a resource and networking opportunity."
